

TENNESSEE BREAKS AWAY FROM "SOLID SOUTH"

LENROOT PLURALITY NOW 40,000

BLAINE LEADS M'COY IN NEARLY ALL THE COUNTIES OF STATE

Has Majority of $5,000 With Two-thirds of Wisconsin Precincts Reporting

MORGAN HAS ENORMOUS LEAD OVER OPPONENT

Mulberger Act Approved; Harding Plurality 283,155

MILWAUKEE, Ws.—With more than two-thirds of the 2,425 precincts of Wisconsin reporting and with even a larger proportion of the total vote tabulated, election of a republican state administration from governor down, including a good majority in the legislature, seemed certain.

In practically every county in the state, Blaine was running ahead of McCoy for governor, the exceptions being Forest, Jefferson, Langlade, Lincoln, Rock, Walworth, Waukesha and Winnebago. In nearly all these counties the report was nearly complete and the McCoy plurality not large. In 1,873 of the state's 2,425 precincts, Blaine polled 292,271, and McCoy 296,511; Coleman, socialist, received 540,000 of the estimated 700,000 votes cast in the state.

A dozen counties on the face of incomplete returns showed Thompson, independent, running ahead of Lenroot for senator, and in Milwaukee county the socialist candidate was ahead of both Thompson and Lenroot. Reisch, democrat, is running a few thousand ahead of Weber, socialist, in the state as a whole.

Returns from practically every county in the state, twenty counties complete, and representing more than 500,000 votes gave Lenroot 228,435; Reisch, democrat, 71,449; Weber, socialist, 58,435; Thompson, independent, 58,426. The counties in which Thompson was leading Lenroot were Buffalo, Juneau, La Crosse, Lincoln, Manitowish, Milwaukee, Outagamie, Ozaukee, Sauk, Washington and Waupaca.

Returns on state offices are more nearly complete for each county when needed and represent a larger proportion of state vote, for the number of precincts counted, than do figures on the heads of the ticket.

Returns from thirty-six counties, nine of which are complete, give the following:

Lenroot governor, 193,262; Kleist, socialist, 32,578. Secretary of state, Hall, republican, 205,413; Silverthorn, democrat, 22,566; Trojahn, socialist, 53,132. Treasurer, Johnson, republican, 207,107; Eber, democrat, 41,930. Attorney general, Morgan, republican, 222,053; Larson, democrat, 96,284. Returns from 1,865 precincts for president give: Harding, 324,963; Cox, 99,585; Debs, 62,406.

Widely scattered returns on the Mulberger referendum show an affirmative vote, available figures being: Yes, 98,763; No, 39,536.

While the text of this law would penalize the manufacture of 2.5 per cent beer, this section is of no effect because of the Volstead act, limiting the alcoholic content of beverages to less than one-half of one per cent. On account of some of its regulatory provisions, the act received the endorsement of the Anti-Saloon league and others.

William H. Stafford, Rep., who defeated Victor L. Berger, Soc., for congress in the Fifth Wisconsin district, has a majority of 6,000 with two precincts yet to report. Stafford's known vote was 29,190 and Berger's 33,103. The result of the missing precincts will not be known until the official canvass is made.

GERMAN SHIP COMES TO U. S. FOR FIRST TIME IN SIX YEARS

NEW YORK.—The first merchant steamship flying the German flag to come here since July, 1914, arrived here Thursday, marking resumption of trade with Germany under the flag of that country. It was the Sophie Rikmers. The Sophie Rikmers was retained by the Germans under armistice regulations which permitted Germany to keep vessels under construction and not 50 per cent completed when the war ended. The ship will take cargo here for the return voyage. Her captain and crew are Germans.

U. S. COURT PROBES PALMER CONNECTION WITH COAL CASES

Attorney General Summoned to Appear in Federal Court Upon Opening of Trial

SIMMS MAY BE CALLED TO EXPLAIN HIS WITHDRAWAL

No Comment on Action Comes from Department of Justice

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer was advised in a telegram from United States District Judge A. B. Anderson Thursday that an investigation of the attorney general's connection with the case against 123 coal mine operators and miners would be made when the case is called for trial in the federal court here on November 8. Mr. Palmer was invited to be present on that date.

Judge Anderson assured the attorney general that the case of the coal miners and operators would be called on the date set, although to date only the Indiana operators and miners and those of western Pennsylvania who voluntarily surrendered are in the jurisdiction of the Indiana district court.

No indication as to the scope or nature of the investigation to be made was given in the telegram, but it was believed that it would be made by the attorney general's department. Mr. Palmer and which resulted in Mr. Simms' withdrawal from the case. It was expected that United States District Attorney Fred Van Nuys, former district attorney of Los Angeles and department of justice agent would also be called.

"Judge Anderson directs me to notify you that the case against the soft coal operators and miners, United States vs. Armstrong et al., will be called for trial in this court at the time set, next Monday, November 8, at which time an investigation will be made of your connection with the case. This notice is given so that you may be present if you so desire."

NOBLE C. BUTLER, Clerk U. S. District Court.

WASHINGTON.—Attorney General Palmer was absent Thursday and officials at the department would make no comment on the telegram which Judge Anderson at Indianapolis announced he had sent to Mr. Palmer.

MRS. BIESEN AND JOHN BEIER TO GET HEARING THIS WEEK

State and Defense Engaged in Perfecting Their Cases; May Exhume Biesen's Body

John G. Beier, who is being held in the county jail on a charge of murdering Nick Biesen, Brinkman Ridge farmer, will be given a hearing sometime this week, according to Lucien Reid, district attorney. Both the state and the defense are busily engaged in perfecting their cases. The district attorney said today there was a possibility that the body of Nick Biesen would be exhumed and an effort made to fix the exact cause of death. Mrs. Biesen, who is being held as a material witness, also may be taken into court this week.

BABCOCK MEASURE IN MINNESOTA HAS FOUR TO ONE LEAD

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Hope for passage of Amendment No. 1, the Babcock good roads measure, was seen in early returns giving it a lead of more than 4 to 1 on the vote cast. In 356 precincts outside of Minneapolis and St. Paul the total was:

Yes, 74,068; No, 15,395.

U. S. ELECTION MARKS RADICAL CHANGE SAYS MANCHESTER PAPER

Regrets Repudiation of Wilson Efforts to Lead World in Lasting Peace

BLAMES DISLIKE OF WILSON RATHER THAN LOVE OF G. O. P.

British Papers Confident U. S. Will Join League

LONDON.—The leading British provincial newspapers consider the election of Senator Harding as an indication that the electorate is tired of what the journals call "one man rule." The Liverpool Post says:

"Senator Harding goes to the white house as the representative of a profound belief, long maturing among the larger part of the nation, that Wilsonism is alien to American traditions and that America should not entangle herself in the affairs of distressed Europe."

This newspaper says the election does not mean antagonism to the league of nations and believes "that America is searching in her heart of hearts for some method of achieving the anguished purpose of the covenant which she can approve without misgiving."

The Yorkshire Post considers it a good thing in the present difficult phase of its natural history that the United States should have elected the candidate it did.

"We believe we interpret European as well as British opinion," it adds, "when we say that an American government which stands for its own country first, last and for all time will be understood and appreciated in this old world of ours which has lost its illusions, and is no longer in a mood to strain after visionary politics."

THE MANCHESTER Guardian says: "The main political motive for the election choice is by general assent accumulated dislike of Wilsonism and not love of Harding and his party. The national repudiation marks a radical change from those weeks in the autumn of 1918 when the material power of America was dedicated to the world war and her foremost mind was leading the world towards such a peace as might have given us a tranquil, swift and untroubled world."

"In what proportions a want of dynamic genius in President Wilson and an irredeemable viciousness of spirit in other politicians combined to darken the political horizon of the world, the balance of public antipathy to it is a story that is told in the most pitiful balance of public antipathy to it. The story is that of one of the most pitiful of all failures in the execution of a task only conceived."

WILSON SHOULD RESIGN AT ONCE DECLARES BRYAN

CHICAGO, Ill.—William Jennings Bryan, in Chicago Thursday, gave out a statement suggesting that "President Wilson should resign at once."

"Now that the American people have decisively declared against the league of nations as written by the president," said Mr. Bryan, "it would seem desirable to carry out the verdict immediately. This can be easily done."

"The president should resign at once and turn over his office to Mr. Marshall, on the condition that on the convening of congress in December, Mr. Marshall appoint Senator Harding secretary of state and himself resign."

"The law then would make Mr. Harding president, and with the republican support in congress, he could at once put in operation the plan for the United States to enter into an association of nations for peace."

"As world peace is a thing nearest the president's heart, he can hardly refuse to hasten the coming of peace by so small a sacrifice—if it could be called a sacrifice—to escape from a three months' combat with a hostile congress, supported as it is by the recent vote."

COOPER WINS

JANESVILLE, Wis.—Henry Allen Cooper, Racine, was elected to congress from the First district by 37,512 votes, the biggest plurality ever given a congressional candidate in Wisconsin.

ESCH MENTIONED FOR POST IN THE HARDING CABINET

Lodge, Root, Knox and Hughes Picked as Possible Choice for State Portfolio

GOSSIP ALSO PICKS HOOVER FOR PLACE IN THE CABINET

Military Man May Be Put in Charge of War Department

MARION, Ohio.—Although nothing authoritative has come from President-elect Harding or any of his close advisers as to the probable cabinet selections of the new administration, campaign gossip has included repeated mention of several prominent republicans for cabinet posts.

In the current of unofficial and purely speculative talk two names heard with frequency are Harry M. Daugherty and John W. Weeks of Massachusetts.

Throughout the campaign Mr. Daugherty has been more closely associated with Mr. Harding than any other party manager. This has led to guesses that Mr. Daugherty can sit in the new president's family if he desires. He is a lawyer and has been mentioned as a possible choice for attorney general.

A former senator, Mr. Weeks, also has been a member of the republican campaign executive committee. He is a graduate of the Naval academy and his name has been linked in the undercurrent of political speculation with the secretaryship of the navy.

Among many names whispered by the self-constituted cabinet makers in connection with the post of secretary of state are those of Henry Cabot Lodge, Elihu Root, Philander C. Knox and Charles Evans Hughes.

Whether political history will repeat itself in the selection of Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, as postmaster general, is another question with which the gossips have busied themselves.

Herbert Hoover, the former food administrator, has been talked about for many posts, but the gossip has assigned him most frequently to the treasury or interior departments. There also has been a theory circulated that Senator Harding might prefer to put reorganization of the war department in the hands of an army man and ask Major General Wood or General Pershing to take that portfolio.

Another name mentioned in connection with the attorney generalship is that of former Senator George Sutherland of Utah. George W. Wickard of New York, a former attorney general, has been mentioned in speculation about both the war and justice portfolios, and Senator James W. Wadsworth of New York has been talked about as a possible secretary of war.

For secretary of agriculture, those who think they know are suggesting Henry Wallace of Iowa, publisher of farm periodicals, Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas and many others. Representative John J. Esch of Wisconsin is one suggested for secretary of commerce, and in general speculation about cabinet assignments of one sort or another have appeared the names of Senator Albert B. Fall of New Mexico; Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland; Walter S. Brown of Toledo; Raymond Robins of Chicago; Senator Smoot of Utah, and enough others to work up a dozen official families.

The possibility that a woman may sit in the cabinet before the next administration is over has been suggested by the senator's proposal for a new department of public welfare.

With only two days remaining before he leaves Marion for a month's vacation trip, President-elect Harding went to work clearing up his desk of the final left-over details of his campaign.

With Mrs. Harding he will start at 7:30 Saturday morning for Point Isabel, Texas, where he will spend twelve days hunting and fishing prior to an ocean voyage to the Panama canal zone. He has made plans to be back in Marion December 6, and after that may go to some Gulf coast resort for a winter to be spent in choosing his cabinet and formulating the policies of his administration.

Tonight Marion is to celebrate formally his election to the presidency, and several hundred people from other cities are expected to join in the occasion. There will be all the noise and red-fire that his loyal neighbors and friends can produce, and many special features to give the Harding front porch and lawn one final baptism of campaign glory.

REOPENING OF LIBRARY DELAYED TILL SATURDAY

Owing to delay in repairing the furnace, the public library will not be reopened on Friday as announced, but will remain closed until Saturday morning.

Moscow Guards Against Revolt Aimed At Soviet

COPENHAGEN.—The Berlingske Tidende's Kovno correspondent says today that Moscow newspapers received in Kovno record an official announcement of discovery by the soviet of plans for a big counter-revolution. Precautions have been taken and thousands of persons are being arrested daily, the newspapers say, and the general staff has detained 3,000 of the former czar's officers who have been interned in Orenburg.

According to the Moscow Pravda, as quoted by the correspondent, Leon Trotsky, the bolshevik minister of war and marine, in a speech in Petrograd declared: "I know danger is coming. I realize the possibility of a severe winter, but though three-fourths of the population die of hunger and cold the remainder will survive to carry through to victory world revolution."

DATE DESIGNATED FOR UNION DEPOT HEARING IN CITY

Long Deferred Event to be Held in Court House Here on November Seventeenth

HELD UP BY THE WAR AND OTHER CONFLICTING MATTERS

Keen Interest Evincing in the Hearing by Local Citizens

Postponed several times because of conflicting engagements and for other reasons, the long-deferred hearing on the petition for a union depot in La Crosse will be held by the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin at 10 a. m. on November 17, in the court house here.

Official notification of the time of the hearing, postponed the last time on October 3, was received today from the Railroad Commission.

Widespread interest is evincing here in the movement to obtain a union depot for La Crosse, and a large attendance of officials and citizens is expected at the hearing. Representatives of all the railroads will appear, and there will be a formidable array of lawyers to argue the question pro and con.

An application for a union depot here was held up on account of the war, and revived with the termination of hostilities nearly two years ago.

It is expected the question will be decided within the next six months.

COLLECTS FIFTY DOLLARS WAGERED AGAINST A FARM

George Allen of Prairie du Chien Comes to La Crosse to Get Dr. Kremer's Money

George W. Allen of Prairie du Chien, who bet an 80-acre farm worth $1200 against $50 in cash that Harding would be elected president collected his winning at the office of the Tribune and Leader-Press today. Dr. Claude Kremer of Houston, Minn., who took the wager, deposited his money several days ago in acceptance of the proposition, figuring that it was worth $50 to make an effort to obtain a farm worth 24 times that amount. When Mr. Allen collected the $50 today he also regained possession of a deed to his farm which he had executed to turn over to Dr. Kremer in the event the latter won the bet.

RESULT STILL IN DOUBT IN STATE OF NEW MEXICO

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—Scattered returns from over the state showed a slight lead for democratic candidates for president, congress and governor, Headquarters of both major parties claimed the final returns would show victory.

HARDING'S LEAD IN OHIO NOW 378,892

COLUMBUS, O.—Returns Thursday increased the leads given Senator Harding and the republican state ticket. The state's twenty-two congressmen are definitely republican. From 6,900 of 7,145 precincts, Senator Harding has a lead over Governor Cox of 378,892. The vote: Harding, 1,108,324; Cox, 727,432.

GOES TO G. O. P. BY MAJORITY OF TEN THOUSAND

Harding Now Assured of 390 Votes in the Electoral College, With 127 Definitely Going to Cox

ONE SOCIALIST ELECTED TO HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

G. O. P. Will Have Senate Majority of at Least Ten With Chance of More

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Returns from all Arizona counties with only isolated precincts missing, gave pluralities for the republican candidates for president, senator and governor. Representative Cary Hayden, democrat, appeared to have been re-elected by 6,000 votes. With 52,000 votes tabulated, Senator Harding had a lead of 6,311 over Gov. Cox in the state.

NEW YORK.—Tennessee has swung into the swelling republican column, shattering democratic traditions of a "Solid South," unofficial but nearly complete returns from the Volunteer state showed early today. Harding's lead in Tennessee is approximately 10,000.

Her shift from the democratic ranks, coupled with a similar upset in Oklahoma, reported last night, assured Warren G. Harding of 390 electoral votes as against 127 definitely in the James M. Cox column, and left in doubt but 14 seats in the electoral college, divided among Arizona (5), Nevada (3), New Mexico (3), and North Dakota (5). In all of these states save New Mexico, Harding was in the lead on available returns, and even in New Mexico republican managers were claiming a Harding plurality though available returns showed a Cox lead.

Tennessee, on the face of returns tabulated by the Memphis Commercial Appeal from 93 out of 95 counties, with fifty precincts, gave Harding 190,739 votes and Cox 189,782, a Harding plurality of 9,977. Governor Roberts (D) was swept out on the republican tide and Alf A. Taylor, unsuccessful candidate for governor against his brother in 1886, was elected.

No further actual upsets were reported from the "solid south," although several towns in Florida and Louisiana and several counties in Georgia and Alabama broke precedents by piling up Harding pluralities.

Ten Majority in Senate
The republican congressional sweep assumed larger proportions as belated returns continued to come in. The victory of Samuel D. Nicholson, republican candidate for the senate, from Colorado, assured President-elect Harding a majority of at least ten in the senate, and of five states where senatorial choices had not been determined, the republican candidates were in the lead in four—Arizona, Oregon, Nevada, and North Dakota. In the fifth, Kentucky, republican leaders still clung to the hope that late returns would overcome the advantage held by Senator J. C. W. (Continued on page six)

FOOD SECONDARY IN THE CORRECTION OF CHILD MALNUTRITION

Home Training, Health Habits and Rest Important Factors Says Health Board

MADISON, Wis.—The causes of malnutrition of children are founded not primarily on food, but on lack of proper training in health habits, in the view of state health authorities. Food is given a secondary place among these causes.

When the question of malnutrition of children is raised, the opinion of the state board of health reads, "it is only natural that many persons should regard this condition as the result of an insufficient and improper food supply. Experience has demonstrated, however, that food is but one and by no means the most important factor involved. It will readily be appreciated that unless the provision for an ample and proper food supply is reinforced by discipline which will require the child to partake of the nourishment and obtain the rest which will aid in its digestion and assimilation, the best results will not be obtained.

"The idea that food is of secondary importance in correcting cases of malnutrition may be a novelty to many, but reflection will justify the following arrangement of the causes of this condition. In order of their relative importance the causes of malnutrition may be given as follows:

- "1. Home control of discipline."
- "2. Rest. Sufficient night sleep and rest intervals during the day."
- "3. Food in sufficient quantity, of adequate quality and eaten at proper times."
- "4. Correction of defects."
- "5. Health habits, stressing cleanliness."

ALEXANDER URGES LIMITING EXPORT OF COAL FROM U. S.

WASHINGTON.—Limitations on the export of coal to insure an adequate supply for home industries and to direct the trade to countries that are natural markets for American coal and to those to which American ships sail in ballast were advocated by Secretary of Commerce Alexander in a discussion of a national coal export policy. When conditions return to normal, the secretary said there is little possibility of American producers obtaining a permanent foothold in Europe and competing with the mines of England, Germany and France. For South American countries, however, he declared the United States is the logical and natural source of supply.

Get this Xmas guide-book to Period Furniture

Come in and let us give you a copy of "Edison and Music". Tells about the chief period designs—what they look like, what they stand for. Pithy descriptions. Beautiful illustrations. Just the information you want.

Let us show you what an exquisite thing a phonograph cabinet can be.

Every New Edison on our floor—no matter what its price—is encased in a genuine period cabinet.

Period Furniture is the world's most exquisite development of furniture. It originated in the 15th, 17th, and 18th Centuries. Europe was ruled by a Gorgeous Aristocracy. Fine living was the ideal of the day. An unparalleled race of artists, architects, and designers built palatial living-places for kings and nobles, and furnished them. The palaces of the nobility became treasure-houses of fine furniture. It was called the "Golden Age of Furniture."

So Mr. Edison had his designers go back into the manor houses of England, the chateaux of France and the castles of Italy. They adapted 17 designs from historic masterpieces. They preserved entire "the character and feeling of the best periods" in these superb phonograph cases for the modern American home.

No matter which Edison cabinet you choose, you get both the arts that make your house a cultured home—music perfectly RE-CREATED and furniture of purest period source. What finer gift for all the family?

GOVERNMENT'S LIMITATIONS

GOVERNMENT is the agency through which organizations of society within national boundaries attempt to do in a collective way such things as can be done through organization better than by the individual. The preamble to our constitution outlines these things as "to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty." Fundamental to this is the assumption that "all men are born free and equal".

When government fails to "promote the general welfare" it will usually be found that in consequence it has also failed to "insure domestic tranquility", and the public's view at such times is apt to be that "the blessings of liberty" are not fully enjoyed. In times like these, when there appears to be some disturbance of "domestic tranquility", it becomes incumbent upon political parties to search themselves for delinquencies, and upon administrations to remedy such delinquencies as shall be found.

But people must not expect of government more than it is capable of accomplishing. They must not charge to government the consequences of human imperfections inherent in the race, over which government can exert no more control than over time and tide. Indeed, government can succeed only by conforming its operations to such lines as coincide with human nature as it is expressed in normal men and women. In the beginning "Adam delved and Eve span", and as long as the world lasts men and women must work, thank God! for without work none can be truly happy. Government can establish approximate equality of opportunity, but it can not change the fact that some people are better able to take advantage of opportunity than others, and some more ambitious to do so. Government can cut down individual accumulations by taxation, but it can not take from man the inclination to accumulate, nor can it remove the incentive to that production upon which the world subsists. Government can, and should, see to it that wealth is unaccompanied by unfair advantages or special privileges, but beyond this it can not go.

Nor should it, if life is worth the candle. What red-blooded man would surrender his right to go out in competition with his fellows in the tasks in the performance of which for individual advantage we make up the aggregate of the world's work and the world's product! What great adventures does life hold for any man outside of love and personal achievement! What lot of assigned and compulsory tasks and artificially legislated rewards in a social state in which individual identity is merged in a common entity could appeal to any self-reliant person! What would remain of true liberty for men and women under such conditions!

"Honest love, honest sorrow,
Honest work for the day,
Honest hope for the morrow"
are worth incomparably more than "the band they leave weary"; they are worth as much as life is worth, for they are life.

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE VICTORY

WE doubt if even the most optimistic partisan was able to predict the full sweep of the republican victory. Most of us had a hunch that this was to be an old-fashioned "republican year", but few could have foreseen that the upheaval which carried the head of the ticket into power would sweep through the senatorial, congressional, state and county tickets of the nation with almost equal strength. And yet that is what has apparently happened. The result in Wisconsin, submerging factional differences as a spring freshet swallows bottom land, is only a bit more emphatic than in most other northern states. Harding, five to one, and the straight republican ticket in spite of Messrs. Morgan and La Follette!

Republicans jubilate today with good cause. But in the enthusiasm of an overwhelming party victory let there not even for a moment be failure to remember the burden of responsibility that goes with that endorsement. By the measure of the country's lavish bestowal of control upon the party is the party committed to a solemn obligation to use its control wisely and unselfishly. In a very large degree the vote on Tuesday marks a rebellion against the autocratic partisanship of the present administration. That is the fact which should impress the party, now returning to power, with the necessity of avoiding the same pit four years hence. The republicans have swept the country overwhelmingly on the democratic record, but the issue in 1924 will be the republican record in the intervening four years of undivided responsibility. The very vastness of the victory evokes less the mood of triumph than that of humble and earnest recognition of its tremendous message of responsibility.

ANOTHER WAR COMING

FRANCE believes another war is coming. The French government, therefore, refuses to abolish conscription. A service law is now being prepared under which all Frenchmen physically fit must join the colors at twenty years of age and remain in the active army for eighteen months or two years. The full time of the conscription period has not yet been finally determined. But France has decided to retain her conscript system, even though conscription in Germany has been compulsorily abolished by the allies.

This is France's answer to the reluctance of the great powers to guarantee the world against a new conflict. Preparing for war is an inevitable way of causing war. Nevertheless, if France doesn't prepare, and if the great powers continue to remain indifferent to the demands of peace, France will become Germany's victim. Therefore, France has to make ready for her own self-defense.

If another war comes, it cannot be confined to the initial combatants. The recent conflict showed how futile was that belief. France's acceptance afresh of the costly insurance of conscription must be regarded as a solemn warning to the world. The time to stop the next war is now, before preparations for it gain a resistless momentum. The only way it can be stopped is by concerted action on the part of the world powers, including principally the United States. Preparing to enforce peace involves a certain amount of risk if war is allowed to come unchecked!

If Harding's plan to have the vice-president take part in cabinet meetings establishes a precedent, there may not be so much competition for the second-place nomination at future conventions.

Ordinary Thomas Jeffries refused to let the women vote in Georgia. Since the nineteenth amendment, that kind of official ought to be called Extraordinary, seems like.

Tennessee went republican—they'd better test the election booth officials for color-blindness.

Senator Harding is going to take a vacation. So are a number of deserving democrats.

Back to normalcy—Sylvia Pankhurst has been arrested.

And Governor Cox fought so hard for the nomination.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The Commercial club of Red Wing has appointed a committee to confer with a civic organization committee from La Crosse on the transfer of an island opposite Red Wing and Caron's Island for Pettibone park. Four years ago an effort was also made but as the Wisconsin legislature refused to give that piece of land to Minnesota the latter would not cede Pettibone park to Wisconsin.

An annual homecoming ball was given at Linker hall last evening to commemorate the return of Companies B and M from Porto Rico.

Mayor Sorensen has ordered the arc lamps on the corners of Fourth, Fifth and Sixth and Main streets removed as the Great White Way now lights these sections.

During the past few days George Norgaard, the promoter of the new soap factory, called on every grocer in the city and fifty signed an agreement to buy soap from him.

M. I. Voight of this city, has devised a rather unusual method of mounting telephone instruments. The telephone is suspended from a box containing the magneto-generator induction coil and signal bells.

The board of public works has awarded Thill and Roberts the contract for building the sewer on Seventh street between Cameron avenue and Cass street.

The river is again on the rise and the big pontoon over the West Channel is once more afloat.

Word has been received that Mr. Thomas Simmons, proprietor of the Oak Grove Steam Marble Works on State street, has arrived at Quebec from his European trip.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Canada, La Crosse and Southeastern railway was held today at the office of Secretary Calvert. Alex McMillan of this city was elected vice-president.

Mills and manufacturing establishments were shut down today to give employees a chance to cast their votes. A number of extra policemen were put on to preserve order. Schools and banks were closed all day.

VICTORY FROM DEFEAT

BY FREDERICK HART

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

The club was nearly deserted, for it was a hot Saturday afternoon and most of the members were out playing golf or other wise enjoying themselves. The great lounge with its chairs swathed in the summer slipcovers, was like a desert, with only a few human oases to be seen in it. Occasionally a velvet-footed waiter would glide in and make a pretense of arranging the papers on the big center-table or glance about to see if any one desired his services; otherwise there was no sound except the buzzing of an impatient fly that had somehow found entrance, and a series of pianissimo snores from a shrouded corner.

The snores annoyed Billy West rather more than did the fly. The insect did not bother him particularly, as long as it stayed at the farther end of the room it might buzz as much as it liked, and welcome; but the snores got on Billy's nerves. They were such self-satisfied, complacent snores; they had a rising inflection, as though to express who are you, anyway, that objects to my snores? and they seemed downward decline into a grunt that sounded very much like "I'll snore where I please—see?" Billy was growing more and more nervous as the night came.

But Billy West was excusable. He had seen Hortense Clement only yesterday evening, and she had made it clear to him at least he thought she had—that she would have none of him for a husband. He had not proposed, but to him it seemed that her manner was sufficient answer. She had been so cold to him all through the dance and, to pile Ochs on Pelion, had been decidedly devoted in her attentions to one Oliver Simmons, who was bold and fat and enormously wealthy. This was bad enough, but when that same Oliver Simmons included himself on Billy's attention by snoring in an objectionable manner in the other end of the room it was a trifle too much. Billy did not know the estimable Mr. Simmons well enough to weaken him, so he decided on strategy. He carefully placed a newspaper near the somnolent one's head, opened the nearby window, and waited results. He had not long to wait; a wandering breeze entered and blew the newspaper right across Mr. Simmons's face. With a snort and a gasp Mr. Simmons came to consciousness.

"Er—uh—what the—Oh!" Mr. Simmons did not seem to be pleased at his abrupt awakening. He yawned, stretched himself, and then, while Billy West was in the midst of a chuckle, rose and crossed the room, seating himself at Billy's side. Billy glanced mentally and cursed the newspaper idea for a boomerang. In his mind, if there was anything more annoying than Mr. Simmons asleep, it was Mr. Simmons awake. But there was no dodging the issue. Mr. Simmons came and sat down heavily.

"Lovely day," said Mr. Simmons, conversationally.
"Um," agreed Billy.
"A little hot, though," continued Mr. Simmons.
"Uh-huh," remarked Billy.
"Still, it may be cooler by evening," "Yes,"
"Heard the news?"
"No."

Billy's heart did a double somersault and stopped beating for a saucy instant. Then it raced badly.
"Is that so?" he managed to inquire in a voice as normal as he could make it.
"Yep. Popped the question last night at the dance, and she took me."

Billy restrained himself with difficulty from running Mr. Simmons in the jaw. He was conscious that his face was very red, and he could only grunt and gasp. Mr. Simmons, observing these signs, laughed loudly.

"Didn't know you were interested, my boy. Ha-ha! The old man beat out the winner, didn't he? Ha-ha!"
And, still laughing, he arose and left the club. In his unconsciousness that he had missed being violently killed by about half the likelihood of a bell.

For an hour Billy sat motionless, then he rose heavily and went to the telephone. After the usual delays he obtained a number, and spoke.

"Hello! Hello! That you, Hortense?"
"Yes—who is it? Oh, you, Billy! Have you heard the news?"

"Poor Billy!"
"Yes, I heard it—this afternoon."
"Well, come right out to the house! I want to talk it over with you."

Agony on agony. She was going to tell him all about it, how Bappy she was—no, she couldn't be happy with that old walrus! Billy ground his teeth. "You had as well as even," he said, "I'll be in his system and said into the transmitter."

On the way to the house he steered himself against the coming ordeal, and arrived in somewhat calmer but, no less despondent frame of mind. Hortense greeted him in her old manner, but with her eyes dancing more than usual.

She dragged him into the cool, dim living room and seated herself on the sofa, making him sit beside her. Confound her, thought Billy, she needs a rub in so hard! It was bad enough to think of her marrying old Simmons without her acting as though she was the happiest girl in the world—and to him, of all people. Of course, he had never told her, but she must have known. Hortense was speaking.

"Isn't it just the best thing you ever heard?"

He realized that he had missed the first part of her speech and rallied valiantly.

"It's—it's perfectly splendid!"
"Splendid! I think it's funny!"
She thought it was funny!

"To think of that queer old stupid—"

With his bald hair and his limp—"

What on earth—"

To think of his getting engaged—"

BOYS PLAN EXHIBITION TO AID BAKRUPT TEAM

(First Day of Story, "When the Boys Failed.")

"Hey, Peg," called Shock Wise, as he ran down the high school steps one evening. "I want to ask you something."

Now to Peg Huston it was nothing new to be asked about things. It seemed to her that someone was always asking about this or that. She often wished the boys would ask her for dates instead. However she answered Shock with an,

"All right, Shock, what is it?"

"Peg, the basketball team is out of luck. We haven't even enough money to rent the floor for our next game. I wonder if the fellows and girls of our class can't get together and have a carnival of some kind and raise some cash."

"That sounds like a dandy plan, Shock. I didn't know the team's money was so low. But there's no reason why we can't raise it ourselves."

"Bill and I were talking it over this morning and we about decided we'd put on some gym stunts. Then Whitey, Tub, Buck, and I'll have some boxing matches. You get the girls out and we'll make it go."

"Why not let us girls make some candy and pop-corn and sell it? How much money do you need to finish out the season?"

"Oh about $50 will pull us through I guess," answered Shock. "But say, let's don't have any candy. We don't want the down-town fellows to think this is a pink tea. You know, you girls just get together and come and get the girls in the other classes to come, and we fellows'll put the thing across all right."

"All right, Shock, I'll see what I can get out of the girls," said Peg as she turned into the Huston driveway.

BOYHOOD STORIES OF FAMOUS MEN

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

A frail American lad, with his brother Elliott and sister Corinne spent a year in Dresden, Germany, where they were educated by a private tutor.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Roosevelt, had promised Theodore that he could pack his own trunk when they left Dresden. Theodore thought this fine and had his trunk locked and strapped several hours before they were ready to go.

Two servants came into his room to carry it out, but much to their surprise they could not budge it. Theodore's mother hurriedly unlocked the trunk, and there, instead of clothes, were stones of all sorts and descriptions, which the young naturalist wanted to add to his collection!

Theodore Roosevelt never lost his love for the great out-of-doors.

"Billy—dear!" she said.

SALVATION ARMY RECORD IN STATE ONE OF USEFULNESS

Great Organization Carries on Program of Aid for Thirty Years in Wisconsin

The Salvation Army, which appeals for funds for its 1920 home service program, including a rescue home for the state, has, among other facts to commend it, a long and creditable record of usefulness in Wisconsin, where it has been carrying out its general program of aid for 30 years.

While the Wisconsin organization is a part of the general organization, it nevertheless functions with independence and is thus able to give local problems special attention and prompt decision. Thus it reaches the girl who needs the aid and comfort of the rescue home; the poor, the unfortunate, people who are in desperate circumstances, but too proud to seek aid, the drifters, the stricken family. The numerous local corps throughout Wisconsin provide headquarters for the work of charity and religious services.

In an address to a convention of state advisory committees Chairman A. T. Van Scoy of the state advisory board said:

"It is our own agency for the relief of our own people. We are part and parcel of it, so far as its social activities are concerned; by this I mean that each advisory board is the Salvation Army in its own county. It must therefore do the things necessary to be done for the relief of the distressed. On its part the Salvation Army stands ready to advise and is constantly advising how to handle the innumerable cases sought for by us, or brought to our attention. When the necessity arises trained officers from the Salvation Army will be sent into any community to seek solution for any difficulties which appear unmanageable."

CRAWLS NINE HOURS ON KNEES TO PROVE DUCK HUNT STORIES

DECORAH, Iowa.—Friends of J. I. Scheunaman of Spirit Lake, Iowa, have recently heard of his "stunt" of crawling on his hands and knees from the flag-pole in the center of Spirit Lake, to the Arnold's Park hotel, the feat taking not quite nine hours. The stunt was the outcome of Scheunaman's habit of telling of his wonderful crawling feats while duck-hunting. The agreement was that he should make the distance stipulated within ten hours and stay within the headline fence. The original stake was $50 if successful and this sum was increased to over $85 by passing the hat at the end of the trip. Scheunaman's knees were heavily padded and his hands well-banded; blocks of wood being tied to his palms.

ALL ABOARD FOR CUBA ENTERTAINS GOOD HOUSE HERE

Merry Musical Show With Clever Features Draws Well at La Crosse Theater

"All Aboard for Cuba," which played at the La Crosse theater Wednesday night to a good sized audience, is a merry, sprightly musical show with many good features to commend it.

First of all it has the best trained chorus of all and seen in La Crosse in many a day. From the opening song to the final ensemble, the aggregation of young women and men forming the chorus worked every instant of the time they were on the stage, dancing and singing in a manner which showed careful training and a fine conception of the value of a predominant feature of a musical comedy. They excelled in dancing numbers, appearing in many clever steps, and sang with fine volume two dozen or more pretty songs.

The principals in the cast of musical comedy stars were well selected. Don Conway in the role of Johnny Smith, is a real comedian, and displayed his artistic possibilities in a style in the replying to comments of a lady in the gallery which all but broke up the show in the last act. These spontaneous new lines convulsed the house and players with laughter and won Mr. Conway a lot of friends here.

Betty Douglas as Winifred Thomson in love with John Smith, is charming and no one blamed Johnny for falling in love with his own wife. Jean Thomson, who carried the principal solo part, has a beautiful, rich soprano voice.

There are several song hits in "All Aboard for Cuba," of the kind that one is liable to be caught humming or whistling the next day, including "Hold Me," "Miami Shore," "I'll Miss You" and "On Their Way to New Jersey." There is a male chorus in this show which scores big in several fine numbers and harmonizes the vocal efforts of the feminine body in delightful style.

Unlike many musical comedies there is a real plot running through this production with a delightful love story as the theme upon which Jimmie Hodges has built a splendid entertainment.

The republicans had secured 257 seats in the house of representatives to 132 for the democrats. Four seats went to miscellaneous, including one socialist and one prohibitionist. Forty-two districts were unreported. On present returns, the republicans had a plurality of 121.

Late returns indicated possible turnovers in case of some democratic representatives reported elected. A notable instance was in New York, where three republican candidates reported defeated—Ryan in the 15th district, Ansonie in the 21st and Resedale in the 23rd—had forged ahead of Deering, Donovan and McKinry, earlier reported elected.

Socialist to Congress

The house will have one socialist member, Meyer London, of New York, who defeated Henry M. Goldfogel, faction candidate in the 12th district. The prohibition party lost its lone representative, but an independent prohibitionist, Milton W. Shroyer, was elected from the Twenty-fifth Pennsylvania district. Several notable upsets occurred in the congressional race—among them the retirement by Missouri voters of former Speaker Clark of the house, and election by Texas voters of a republican representative—Harry Warrick. Post-election developments within the ranks of the broken democratic party included a last statement from William J. Bryan, in which he divided honors for the election between President Wilson and Candidate Cox, asserting that the former had "laid the foundation for the disaster and the latter had completed the structure." Wayne B. Wheeler, legislative counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America, issued a statement declaring a check in the congressional election. The league showed a "substantial majority" in both houses against any beer or wine amendment.

How the States Went

Returns early today showed the following states in republican electoral vote—California, 12; Colorado, 8; Connecticut, 5; Delaware, 3; Idaho, 4; Illinois, 29; Indiana, 15; Iowa, 12; Kansas, 10; Maine, 6; Maryland, 8; Massachusetts, 18; Michigan, 15; Minnesota, 12; Missouri, 18; Nebraska, 6; Nevada, 3; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 11; New York, 40; Ohio, 24; Oklahoma, 10; Oregon, 6; Pennsylvania, 32; Rhode Island, 4; South Dakota, 6; Tennessee, 12; Utah, 4; Vermont, 3; Washington, 7; West Virginia, 8; Wisconsin, 12; and Wyoming, 4.—A total of 390.

Governor Cox has safely followed.

Alabama, 12; Arkansas, 9; Florida, 11; Georgia, 11; Kentucky, 10; Louisiana, 10; Mississippi, 10; North Carolina, 12; South Carolina, 9; Texas, 20; and Virginia, 12.—A total of 127.

States still in the doubtful list, lacking in sufficient returns were: Arizona, 5; Nevada, 3; New Mexico, 6; and North Dakota, 5.—A total of 14.

BIG TIRE BURSTS, TEARING HOLE IN MILL ST. PAVING

A huge eight by forty inch tire on an Interstate Oil company truck burst yesterday afternoon in Mill street near Car, tearing a hole about 18 inches in circumference and nearly four deep in the paving. Small stones were hurled for several hundred feet and rattling against window panes like hail. "I thought a Busy Bertha shell exploded under the truck," said the driver as he jumped from his seat to see what the "blast" was all about. Mill street residents thought a bomb had been exploded. Actual damage done: one life shot to pieces and another chuck hole added to the 1,000 hole golf course in Mill street from Monticello to the Milwaukee railroad tracks.

CHAMPION DEMPSEY MAY BOX WILLARD BEFORE GEORGES

Return Match Between Dempsey and Willard to Take Place on March 17—Dempsey

NEW YORK.—Promoters of the Jack Dempsey-Georges Carpenter heavyweight championship both denied that arrangement had been made whereby this contest would be preceded by one between Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard. The return match between Dempsey and Willard is to take place on March 17, according to a statement made by Dempsey in Montreal.

It is known, however, that such a match has been in the making for some time, and a definite announcement is expected to follow the formal signing of the Dempsey-Carpenter contract Friday. Willard and many of his supporters have been clamoring for a return battle against Dempsey but tentative arrangements made several months ago were sidetracked for the Dempsey-Carpenter battle. It is stated on good authority that the Dempsey-Carpenter contract will permit Carpenter to engage in fistie battles in Europe, and Dempsey in America, before their clash next summer. Neither can invade the pugilistic territory of the other prior to the championship fight.

A clause will provide that in case either Carpenter or Dempsey is defeated previous to their meeting in the ring, the contract which they are expected to sign Friday will become null and void.

BOWLING

After having off for some time, for failing all of their games, the Independents came back in the ring Wednesday night for two out of three games from the La Crosse club 60's. Both of the Independents, rolled the highest total for both teams, making 395 in the three games. Burns topped the 60's with a total of 534 pins.

In games marked by good averages on both teams, the Velvo Sweats took out of three from the National Gaugers. W. Klawitter totaled 603 pins while Heinke, of the Gaugers, made 542.

RICKARD IS AFTER MULKERN'S BOUT; OFFERS $50,000

NEW YORK.—Tex Rickard and the Madison Square Garden club in New York have offered Frank Mulkern of Milwaukee $50,000 for the Tender-Jackson match scheduled to be staged at the Auditorium in the Cream City on Nov. 22. Mulkern may sell it at that price. That is more money than the scrap will draw in Milwaukee and it will go tremendously big here since Jackson knocked out the other star lightweight southpaw, Eddie Fitzsimmons.

MICHIGAN MEETS OHIO SATURDAY ON COLUMBUS FIELD

Wolverines are Anxious to Avenge Defeat at Hands of Buckeyes

COLUMBUS, O.—It'll be a clash of giants this week when Michigan and Ohio State meet here in their seventeenth encounter.

Despite the fact that Michigan last year lost its first contest to Ohio State and the long series is lopsidedly in the Wolverines' favor, it'll be a muss for revenge on the visitors' part. Primed for the Ohio State melee last fall, the Michigans attribute the slashing defeat at Ann Arbor, 13 to 3, at the hands of Chic Harley and his crew, as the beginning of their slide down the conference toborogan in which Michigan made its most ignominious showing in years.

Ohio State, with three big ten games out of the way, will fight every inch of the way to turn back Michigan, for it desperately needs the contest to stay in the running for championship honors. With the melec carded as the annual homecoming game, seats, except for standing room and a few thousand unreserved places to go on sale early this week, long since have been exhausted. With Michigan as the attraction athletic officials here easily could sell out the new Ohio stadium were it available.

In Hoge Workman, Ohio State has probably the best forward passer in the country today. Walter Camp, who saw Workman's arm at work in the Wisconsin-Ohio State fray, called him "wonderful." In Pete Stinchcomb, Ohio State has almost as good an open field runner and receiver of forward passes as the matchless Harley. Workman and Stinchcomb together make a tough combination for opponents to solve.

The Buckeyes may be strengthened for the game by the return of Frank Williamson, star fullback, who has been of little use through injuries this fall. He was hurt before the Purdue game and again early in the Wisconsin contest.

NEW YORK.—Coach "Buck" O'Neill has relegated Kieninger, captain of the Columbia university squad, to the second team since the Wesleyan defeat.

GRAUSNICK, SZOLD RIP PURPLE FROSH IN HARD SCRIMMAGE

CHICAGO, Ill.—Northwestern varsity made consistent gains through the freshmen team during the hour's scrimmage last night. Grausnick and Szold performed especially well. The former was able to see better, out of his right eye. He received a deep slash in his forehead, which somewhat obstructed sight, in the game with Indiana.

After dinner the members of the team were guests at an athletic association meeting at Patten gymnasium. Because of this, skull practice was dispensed with by Coach McDevitt.

McDevitt and Assistant Coach Sawtelle spoke at the meeting, and great enthusiasm was raised among the students for the homecoming games with Purdue Nov. 15. Members of the association and other student officials are endeavoring to make the homecoming this year one of the largest ever had at the home of the Purple. Jack Hathaway, captain of the wrestling team and center on the football squad, gave a wrestling exhibition, as did other students at the smoker. Boxing matches also entertained the men.

While their record so far this season beralds no danger, nevertheless the Brewers can be depended upon to have something up their sleeves to let loose on La Crosse, who, as matters stand now, are the logical champions of the southern section.

Robert Nohr, the Normal school athletic director, is still working on the plans for a game with Beloit college to be played here on Thanksgiving day. SMITH OF NEW YORK IS MIRACLE MAN OF THE 1920 ELECTION

Defeated Candidate for Governor Runs Over Million Ahead of Cox

NEW YORK. — Revised returns from all but 121 of the 7,308 districts of the state gave Nathan L. Miller, republican, a plurality of 63,275, over Governor Alfred E. Smith in the gubernatorial contest. The vote was: Miller, (R.) 1,319,586; Smith, 1,256,311.

Although defeated for re-election, Gov. Al Smith tonight as the miracle man of American politics. Republicans and Democrats alike agree that the Democratic governor's achievement of almost accomplishing his own election despite the more than 1,000,000 New York state landslide plurality for Senator Harding sets a mark never before equaled in popular elections.

Figures tell the tale of Gov. Smith's remarkable run better than adjectives. For instance:

Harding's estimated state plurality over Cox 1,272,595.

Nathan L. Miller's estimated plurality over Smith 63,275.

Far Outran Own Ticket

The Republican gubernatorial candidate thus ran more than 1,000,000 votes behind the Republican presidential candidate and Gov. Smith ran just so far ahead of Cox, the Democratic national leader.

While Harding was carrying New York City by the unprecedented Republican avalanche of 431,130, this same Democratic governor was leading over Miller to the tune of 319,611.

Outside of this city, Harding's estimated plurality over Cox was $88,465, while Miller's margin over Smith is only $77,814. It was only the strongly Republican rural districts that pulled Miller through.

Due to His Popularity

Much of Smith's achievement undoubtedly is due to his personal popularity, but there are various contributing causes, all of which combine to stamp Smith as the acknowledged national leader of the badly shattered Democratic party. Smith's race is cited by Democrats as the one hopeful spot on the political map since yesterday's balloting.

Smith already is being spoken of as the logical Democratic presidential candidate in 1924, and eastern Democrats are bemoaning the fact that he was not the national standard bearer this year. They assert that Smith could have carried New York state if he had been the presidential nominee. As it was he had to turn over a million voters—get a half million Republicans to vote for him while voting for Harding.

BLAINE EXPRESSES APPRECIATION OF PEOPLE'S SUPPORT

Governor-Elect Pledges Himself to Carry Out Platform Promises

MADISON, Wis.—John J. Blaine, governor-elect of Wisconsin, today expressed his gratitude to the people of the state for the new endorsement of his public record. He declared that he considers his election remarkable because of the fact that the ablest men in the state had been able to get the truth from him and had been suppressed by many newspapers during the campaign.

"I am grateful to the people for their renewed endorsement of my public record," declared the governor-elect. "I shall to the best of my ability seek to merit their confidence. The campaign against me was unusual. The fight against me was a campaign based on slander of an organization of farmers which had endeavored to suppress my public record. No issue was presented. But a system press suppressed my platform and my public addresses and it is quite remarkable that the people were able to learn the truth. The result plainly shows that the people in the daily papers of the state shall be my purpose to carry out my platform pledges made to the people."

Attorney General Blaine today received hundreds of telegrams from all sections of the state congratulating him upon his election and wishing him success in his coming administration. Mr. Blaine will leave tonight for Escobedo, where he expects to spend several days on his farm. He hopes to return to Madison in the next week.

Katherine MacDonnell, first national star who has just completed "Curtain," recently advertised for a maid. One of the applicants for the position failed to qualify because the young board refused to back her up. "The Wholesome Wilcox" was the mistress for many years," said the applicant. "Because of her death I am unable to give you her written recommendation, but if you will consult the girls board, Mrs. Wilcox will tell you, you can't leave without me." Hours at the board brought no results.

Makers of electric clothes-washers estimate that about 100,000 machines will be made in the country this year. Wisconsin makes 10 percent of the total, a share of from ten to fifteen thousand.

REVOLI

Lionel Barrymore in "The Master Mind" will be the attraction at the Rivoli theater, beginning today. This is the first of a new series of Barrymore photoplays to be presented by the Associated First National and it is claimed to be one of the sensational screen masterpieces of the season. Mr. Barrymore is himself authority for the claim that he has never had a role which provided a wider latitude for his talents. He is capably supported by such well-known artists as Gypsy, Charles Brandt, Ralph Kellard, Bradley Barker, Charles Brandt, Marie Shotwell, Bernard Randall and Charles Edwards. The picture was directed by Kenneth Webb under the personal supervision of the producer, Whitman Bennett. "The story concerns the workings of the remarkable mind of a brilliant psychologist bent on reaping revenge on a district attorney who had sent his brother to the electric chair. A beautiful girl, innocent and unsuspecting, is used as the pawn and a gang of dangerous criminals, completely under the control of the master mind, weave the nets of vengeance around the victim with thrilling skill. Just at a time when the master mind has finally achieved his purpose, something unusual happens to stay his hand, and it is said the ending is one of the most unusual yet projected on the silver sheet."

STRAND

Scenes in which a jockey actually was killed during the taking of the production at a southern race track, are included in "The Sport of Kings," the screen version of the famous story by Arthur Somers Roche, which will be shown at the Strand theater today only. The fatal accident occurred during the race in which the celebrated Vivandiere, outwined from many tracks, is supposed to resent the whip piled by the rider who uses it under direction of a betting pool which knows its certain effect and hopes thereby to make a heavy profit in betting money. The jockey carried out instructions, but the horse veered so swiftly from the track running at top speed, that it crashed through a fence and fell, crushing the rider to death.

MAJESTIC

Delightful and intimate insights into London's famous artist colony are given, along with an unusually appealing story, in "The Prince Chap," the photoplay attraction at the Majestic theater. It is William DeMille's screen production of Edward Peple's well known play of the same name.

This is the vehicle which Cyril Scott used on the stage for several seasons with singular success. The role of the sentimental hero has found a worthy successor in Thomas Meighan.

"The Prince Chap" is the story of William Peyton, sculptor. In love with a beautiful woman, he leaves her to seek fame as a sculptor. Through the death of a model, he becomes the guardian of a baby girl. A misunderstanding causes a break between Peyton and his fiancée. And later Claudia, his ward, grows into a beautiful woman, and he discovers that his heart is not broken, just bruised.

BLIU

The most dangerous "vamp" in the world has been found. Her name is Lila Leslie and she appears this week at the Blou theater in J. Warren Kerrigan's latest Brunton feature, "No. 99."

Miss Leslie, who is a charming blonde type and a former favorite in many of Blou's biggest productions, has probably broken up more homes via the celluloid and legitimate drama route than any other American actress. During her four years' work on the stage and screen she has been held directly responsible for seventeen divorces, numerous separations, three duels and one suicide.

If actual figures are to be credited she has brought about the ruin of more carefree young men during her brief career than the artful conning of Cleopatra. No! Gwyn or Louise, do Valerie could accomplish in a life-time. Strangely enough, Miss Leslie is not fond of home-wrecking roles. In spite of the fact that producers extol her work as the final work in vampology she has always entertained a lurking desire to play sympathetic ingenuities.

"My one ambition," she told a reporter recently, "is to play in a really interesting drama."

"What is your idea of an interesting drama?" the man asked.

"One," said Miss Leslie, "without a man in it!"

Reports that Lionel Barrymore is to star in a production of "The Honorable Peter Sterling" from the Whitman Bennett Studio and that the picture is under way and will be released through Associated First National Pictures, Inc., are not founded on fact, according to a joint announcement from officials of that organization and Bennett. The first four Bennett-Barrymore feature productions are specifically "The Master Mind," by Daniel G. Carter, and "The Devil's Garden," by W. B. Maxwell, with Arnold Bennett's "The Great Adventure" and "Jim the Penman," by Sir Douglas Young, to follow.

Charles Ray, the popular star, whose independent productions are now being released through First National, admits that during his boyhood days his one and great ambition was to become a street car motorman. He further states that many of his boyhood hours were spent in mimicking the blue-coated gentlemen with brass buttons. Last week Mr. Ray's lifelong ambition was realized. In the closing scenes of "Nineteen & Phyllis" the scenarios called for Mr. Ray to run the Rickville Rapid Transit "Car" in a quiet, little village.

WRANGLER FORCES HOLDING REDS ON THE PEREKOP LINE

Bolsheviki Attack Unsuccessful Says Dispatches from Segastopol

SEBASTOPOL-By The Associated Press.-Russian bolshevik troops are unsuccessfully attacking the line held by General Wrangel's army south of Perekop. The town of Perekop, which has been occupied by the bolsheviks, is a mass of ruins. Anti-bolshevik cavalry is pushing from Chernogor, west of the Melitopol railway, southwest towards Salikovo railway station, attacking the rear of the soviet troops who are attempting to take Salikovo, which is defended by General Wrangel's sailors with naval guns.

MEXICAN EXECUTED FOR SLAYING OF AMERICAN CITIZEN

They Never Drink

One of the strangest of biological facts is that there are in desert regions mammals that never drink. Conspicuous among them are the prairie dogs. These little mammals, apparently, do not in all their lives drink a drop of water. With certain other rodents, such as porcupine and kangaroo rats, it is the same way. Inasmuch as the physical economy of these animals requires water, the latter manifestly must be separated in their bodies from the food, mostly seeds, on which they subsist.

The La Crosse Hi-Tribune

Published Thursdays by the High School Class in Journalistic English.

VOL. 2, NO. 7. THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1920.

SENTIMENTS OF COUNTRY FELT BY HIGH VOTERS

Harding, with an overwhelming majority, defeated Cox in the straw vote. The final tally showed the following men in the lead:

President—Harding 619, Cox 114.
Governor—Blaine, 356, McCoy 317.
United States Senator—Leahoot, Thompson 144, Reineck 88.
Congressman—Beck 474, Clarke 1.

Assemblyman—Fowler 340.
County Clerk—Staats 488, Jollette 188.
Referendum—Yes 404, No 243.

The student body was divided in accordance with the four classes, the seven election officers for each booth being chosen from the civics classes. The booths were open from 8 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Several teachers in an attempt to test the knowledge of the inspectors, pleaded blindness or helplessness to vote. On the independent ticket, Tom Chisholm was voted on for governor. However his supporters were few.

The new members voted into the Guards were: Idamne Bentley, Renata Gannu, Esther Gering, Emily Guentner, Winifred Lyons, Doris Nie-roeyer, Gladys Reineck, Robert Engelke, Ralph Mattison, Harold Mol-zahn, Leo Mueller, Eric Ravndal and William Voss.

FACULTY MEMBERS ENTERTAINED AT H. S. SATURDAY EVENING

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Collinge entertained the members of the faculty at a delightful Halloween party. The program consisted of a trip to "The Realm of Hades." The guests came in two parties, the one party arrayed as gypsies and the other in the most ghastly masks and sheets. Mr. Collinge explained why the end of the world was about to come, one reason being that Miss Mashek and Miss Heideman had accomplished their life-long fight for woman suffrage; so there was nothing more for them to live for.

They then consulted the "Oracle of Delphi" where they received their instructions for the journey to the underworld. First they went to a fish pond and drew the only thing that they were allowed to take on this journey of thirteen miles. They started on their journey to the underworld. First they were taken by a guide to the roof of the building where they were told to take a last look at the beautiful earth which had been their home for so many years. They were then taken to the tank room where they gave "Charon" a penny as toll to cross the river Styx. From here they were led up the long narrow stairway, through the girls' locker room, and the gym and into the annex. There they descended the winding stairs into the "Depths of Oblivion" and were greeted by a skeleton who banded each of them his fortune.

Then passing along the corridor quickening their step here and there when confronted by a skeleton or a huge crab, they entered the "Furnace room" to witness the "Forges of Vulcan" in full blast. Detouring from here they were led into the fan room or "The Cave of the Winds." The guide then led them to the auditorium where they nervously listened to several "Spooky" selections on the phonograph such as "They're Hanging Danny Dever in the Morning." The finishing touches to the entertainment was complete when they were served in the lunch room with the following menu:

Cup of Remorse
Nightmare's Harbinger
Fingers of Jealousy
Cup of Despair
Man's Temptation
Dark Oblivion

The evening was brought to a close by Miss Esch trying to win a prize from much to her embarrassment while Mr. Kline played "Japanese Sandman" on a tin lute. Several mem-

EMILY GUENTNER ELECTED CAPTAIN OF GIRLS' SENIOR BASKETBALL TEAM

The first team for girls' senior basketball has been organized. Emily Guentner was elected captain. Helen Lavenstein, forward. Lavola Stanley, forward. Emily Guentner, running center. Rose Bernack, jumping center. Marcella Stang, guard.

Mr. Saenger's motor mechanics class leads the school by a wide margin, in buying war savings stamps. Miss Green's English I class is second. The total amount for the month of October is $93.29.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS GO INTO BUSINESS

The names of two high school boys have been placed on the list of the business men of La Crosse. Ori Ross, a junior, has purchased the studio and equipment of W. J. Fitzpatrick, well known local photographer with whom he has been associated for the past two years. During the last six months he has been carrying on a major part of the developing and printing for "Fitz." Ori intends to continue the business in the majestic building where it has been established for several years. He has a well established trade doing the finishing for several of the leading druggists besides filling mail orders from all over the United States and Canada.

Charles Heyerdahl has gone into partnership with "Bob" Mendell and bought out the business of Campbell's Quick Delivery. They have two H. D. motorcycles equipped with side cars and are planning to add another machine on account of the growth of the business. "Chut" reports eighty-two deliveries in one day.

FORMER HIGH SCHOOL PLAYERS STAR ON UNIVERSITY TEAMS

Former La Crosse High school students are making records for themselves on college football teams all over the country this year. George Bunge, who played on the team for two years, and Scott, another alumnus, are both on the University of Wisconsin team this year. This is Bunge's second year on the Badger team and the third year for Scott. Tom Dickens, another graduate, played on the Yale team last year, and was acting captain of the Eli team this year until the West Virginia game when he wrenched his knee. This injury will keep him out of the game for the rest of the season.

Bobbie Fitzke and Fritz Layman are both backfield men at the University of Wyoming. Fitzke's kicking and passing won the game for Wyoming against the University of Colorado at Denver. And last but not least, our former stars on the La Crosse Normal school eleven, Capt. Schrader, Regis Wilke, Rippe, Kevin and Dahlgreen, all former members of La Crosse high teams, helped to cap the championship of Wisconsin for La Crosse last year, and are out to repeat their performance this year.

Before the Sparta game numerous posters could be seen on telephone poles on the main highways and all over La Crosse announcing the game and giving the directions to the field. The athletic council did not furnish these and when inquiry was made it was found that Mr. Liesenfeld, local printer, had printed and distributed these cards absolutely free. The condition prevailed before the Sparta game.

This shows the interest Mr. Liesenfeld takes in the school, and his devotion has been heartily appreciated by the Athletic association, and by the student body in general.

Aspirin

Take only as Told

In each package of genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" are directions and dosage worked out by physicians during 21 years, and proved safe by millions.

Take no chances. If you see the "Bayer Cross" on tablets, take them without fear.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents—Larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocaceticacid of Salicylicacid
